GOVERNOR SMALL IS ARRESTED BY SANGAMON SHERIFF

FORCED TO GIVE BOND AT COURTHOUSE, UNDER PROTEST.

Executive Gives in After Officers Camp at Door Over Lunch Time.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 9.—Gov. Len Small was placed under arrest by Sheriff Henry McQuinn of Sangamon county at the executive mansion shortly after 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Despite his protests and those of his attorney, George R. Gillespie, he was forced to accompany the sheriff to the courthouse, where he furnished bonds of $50,000 as surety for his appearance before Judge Elbert S. Smith in the Sangamon county court on the first Monday in September to answer to three indictments charging him with embezzling a half million dollars of state funds, conspiring to defraud the state of $2,000,000 of the taxpayers' money, and embezzling jointly with Lieut. Gov. Fred S. Sterling and Vernon Curtis, $100,000 of interest on public funds.

It is the first time in the history of Illinois that a governor of the state has been arrested on a criminal charge while in office.

End of Perfect Peace.

The curtain was rung down on the farce, which has amused the nation ever since Gov. Small's indictment on July 26, towards the end of what was the most farcical day of the governor's whole career of hide and seek with the law. From noon until

BLAINE PROTESTS REMOVAL OF VETS

SIDEWALKS DROP INCH TO CRACK MAIN STREET
Excavations are being made under the sidewalk on South Main street, in front of stores on the west side of the street, to stop the cracking of the sidewalk.

In several places the sidewalk has dropped enough to cause the cracking of display windows.

The curb line stone broke and there being a hollow space underneath the walk, causing the concrete to drop from two to three inches.

WARD IS ELECTED CHURCH DELEGATE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison.—Governor John J. Blaine has protested strenuously to the Washington government against the removal of Civil war veterans from the Milwaukee old soldiers' home to make way for hospitalization of World war veterans, according to a letter from the governor to Col. J. A. Mowbray, commander of the U. S. Soldiers' Home, No. 1, G. A. R., Milwaukee, made public Wednesday.

Removal of Civil war veterans from Milwaukee soldiers' home without their consent will be an act of gross ingratitude, and inhuman, said Governor Blaine's telegram to Washington.

"The 'crazy' selling their wares and the noise from the engines running the various attractions, added to the noise made by one of the barker, who induced a panic, drew the attention of the crowd, and that made by the sellers of whistles and other noise-producing instruments, all going to make a typical carnival day."

SIX U. S. CITIZENS ARE FREED FROM RUSSIAN PRISONS

RACINE MAN IS AMONG AMERICANS SET AT LIBERTY

ARRIVE AT NARVA

Holding of Others May Mean Long Delay in Relief Negotiations.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Riga.—Soviet Russia has released six of the American prisoners, who have arrived at Narva, Estonia, but the fact that only this half dozen Americans were sent out of the country was said here Wednesday to threaten a long delay in and perhaps abandonment of negotiations for American relief for Russia.

The six Americans released are Emmett Kilpatrick, William E. Fisher, William F. X. R. Kalmanson, E. J. La Mare and Russell Dattigberg. The prisoners released, under the promise made by the Soviet authorities at the time help was needed from American relief organizations for famine suffering Russia, reached Narva Tuesday night.

Of the released men Capt. Emmett Kilpatrick, a Wisconsin native, was captured while on duty with General Wrangel's forces in south Russia. William Fick and Dr. Weston B. Estes, New York, are moving picture photographers who went into Russia and were imprisoned last year.

Henry J. La Mare and a New York man and Russell Dattigberg's home is in San Francisco.

Must Release All

Walter L. Brown, European director of the American relief administration, Herbert Hoover's organization, through which it has been planned chiefly to administer the proposed famine relief, arrived in Riga Wednesday. He is expected to see the six Americans set free and sent out of Russia through Estonia, where on the way to Riga, Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian Soviet envoy for the proposed negotiations, reached here about the same time.

Director Brown, it is understood, will insist that every bona fide American in Russia, whether in or out of prison, must be given an opportunity to leave Russia before negotiations can begin.

Conference Unlikely

It was thought a conference Wednesday between Mr. Brown and Litvinoff was unlikely. Mr. Brown is acting unofficially, but in touch with the state department, whose representative, Captain E. E. Young, was here about the same time. A list of more than 100 Americans is being compiled.

SOCIALIST CITY OFFICIALS BOLT, DENOUNCE PARTY

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Denver, Colo.—City Clerk L. W. Christensen, elected on the socialist ticket a year ago, in a public statement has denounced the socialist party for its incantations and asserted that under no circumstances would he ever again be a candidate for office on the socialist ticket. Some time ago Mayor Barwell, elected also on the socialist ticket, severed all relations with that party. It is understood other party leaders are contemplating the same move.

SILESIA PROBLEM TENSION LESSENED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris.—Tension over the Upper Silesian question, which was marked when the supreme allied council began its session here Monday, appeared to have been lessened when the council met Wednesday. Tuesday's frank exchange of ideas and the agreement of France, Great Britain and Italy, in principle, to the frontier to be drawn between Poland and Germany through the Upper Silesian province area, appeared to have cleared the situation and there seemed every reason to believe the remaining sessions of the council will be dictated by the rapid disposition of questions.

The council put the Silesian question temporarily aside Wednesday, while awaiting reports of experts on the situation in the new boundary line between Poland and Germany in this area, agreed upon in principle Monday.

The council decided to discuss the Greek-Turkish situation and German disarmament questions. The council decided unanimously to adopt an attitude of strict neutrality in the Greek-Turkish war. Ambassadors of France said this decision was in conformity with the policy of the United States, previous to its entering the war, and he concurred in the council's finding.

Big Electrical Storm Leaves Wake of Fires, Cripples Wire Service

One girl was stunned and a number of others badly frightened when lightning struck the Lewis Knitting company's factory, on South Main street Wednesday morning. Burning out all the motors and putting the plant at a standstill for two hours. The girl was Clara Rahling, 18 years old, 325 Home Park avenue. She was given first aid.

Wednesday's storm, which started shortly after 6 a. m., was marked by extraordinarily sharp lightning which caused several fires within the vicinity and played havoc with telephone and electric wires. A barn near Footville was struck and badly damaged. A hay stack on the John Beale farm near the Janesville country club was set on fire.

The heavy rains caused postponement of Janesville day at the local fair until Thursday.

Electric Wires Hit

Service on Janesville Electric company was interrupted at 5 o'clock when a circuit breaker on the high tension line was thrown out when lightning hit the wires. Two transformers were damaged. The wires were burned out at 7 o'clock when lightning struck, also entering the station near there and doing minor damage. The wires were repaired at 11 o'clock but unless the storm grew more severe there would be little other damage.

Phones Out of Order

Approximately 75 residence telephones of the Wisconsin Telephone company and about an equal number of the Rock County system were put out of order Wednesday morning by the storm. The trouble was caused by both lightning and the heavy rain, only minor repairs being needed in the business section. Two long distance lines to Shullsburg and one to Delavan of the Bell company were out of order.

Rainfall was extremely heavy. Torrential showers flooded the streets all over the city and especially in the downtown section particularly at the junction of Main and Milwaukee streets where the miniature lake was formed. Rivulets overflowed the gutters and pouring out the sidewalks filled some of the cellars.

RAIN PUTS CHECK ON FOREST FIRES IN NORTH WOODS

TOWN IS SAVED BY TIMELY DOWNPOUR IN MICHIGAN.

Week's Wetting Necessary to Quench Blaze, Say Old Timers.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Escanaba, Mich.—Forest fires, which Tuesday surrounded the town of Escanaba, were reported under control Wednesday, following about two hours of heavy rain.

Old-timers here believe the fires are burning three feet underground and that it would take a week of heavy rain to extinguish them. Others say the fires will not be put out until snow falls.

Escanaba and nearby towns have taken on appearance of a great industrial center, great clouds of smoke hanging over the city.

Flames Fanned Tuesday

The fires had taken on a new lease of life before the rain, when a strong wind fanned the flames into a fury, causing farmers again to ask for help. Thousands of dollars worth of crops were to be saved from the flames, which were burning a wide path in this section.

Tuesday the forest fires destroyed four houses and all the farm buildings on four farms near Ford River. Farmers Tuesday were loading their household goods on wagons to escape the fires and starting towards the city.

Traffic on the state road south, was halted Tuesday when the heat and smoke became so intense that all traffic was detoured through a field. Other roads leading into Escanaba were reported open Wednesday morning.

Fire Is Extinguished

Manitowish.—The forest fire in the township of Koshong, 18 miles from here, is reported to have been subdued by a heavy fall of rain Wednesday.

ONE HELD HERE AS SUSPECTED AGENT FOR STOLEN AUTOS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago, Ill.—A man who was arrested here Tuesday as a suspected agent for stolen autos, was held in the city.

Exposure of large auto theft ring operating in Wisconsin and Northern Illinois may be made within the next few days, Janesville police believe, following the arrest here of A. H. Rhodes, 35 years old, alleged gambler and salesman for stolen cars. Rhodes has peddled a number of stolen machines in this section the past summer, police believe.

Rhodes is being held under $400 bail on a charge of having changed the motor numbers on two Ford cars which it is alleged he sold for $250 each to people living near Janesville within the past two weeks. The two machines—a 1921 sedan and a 1920 coupe—have been confiscated by Chief Charles Newman and are now held at police headquarters pending investigation into three states as to whether or not they are stolen cars.

Motor Numbers Changed

Despite inquiry at Milwaukee, Chicago and Detroit, nothing has as yet developed as to the ownership of the cars. The motor numbers have been carefully changed so as to make identification by this means practically impossible. Police are now trying to make some headway by means of the body numbers and brands of tires.

Although Rhodes was arrested in Janesville last Saturday night, it was kept secret by Chief Newman until Wednesday with the hope of rounding up more evidence with the possible implication of the "higher-ups."

One Has Belief License

Strengthening the belief that the two cars stored here were sent out by a regular "ring" for sale or stolen on machines is the fact that the sedan bears Wisconsin license plates which were issued to a W. Purnam, 2201, early this year. A telephone call to Mr. Purnam developed that his Ford sedan, of an older model than the one seized here, was stolen several months ago.

DECLARES SHIP ENGINEER TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New Orleans, La.—Support of the statement of Capt. E. K. Kirk, that suicide and not mutiny was responsible for the death of Chief Engineer Frank McCauley of Milwaukee on the steamship "Patrick Henry," was given in a telegram received Wednesday by Mrs. Con McCauley, mother of the engineer. The message was sent by the father in Chicago following receipt of a farewell letter from the son, dated July 17. Previously the mother had insisted her son had not taken his life.

FLOOD OF RAIN POSTPONES BIG JANESVILLE DAY AT THE FAIR

ARE ABOUT TO BE ABLAZE FOR NIGHT FAIR

Midway Is Riot of Music, Lights and Color—Hundreds Attend.

Efforts of the fair committee to make the night fair one of the main features, this year and to have a larger attendance than last year will prove successful. Judging from the number present Tuesday night, soon after 7, the midway took on a carnival aspect with the people there enjoying the rides and the time passing more than in the daytime, when they are most interested in the livestock and exhibits. The Whip and the Soaplines did a thriving business, causing excitement for the participants and the on-lookers. Skill in throwing and shooting netted some useful articles, while those who could push a large ball so it hit a pin on the back were being profited by a kewpie doll or a lamp. Dispensers of ice cream, cones, ice cream sandwiches and "hot dogs" were well patronized.

Groom Livestock.

Although the livestock barns and the culinary and educational exhibits were not visited as much as in the daytime, many watched the attendants grooming the cattle. Soon after 10 o'clock all was quiet at the livestock barn, only an occasional "moo" from the cows and squeal from the pigs being heard. Attendees slept near the animals, looking their best in the morning.

The main attraction of the night fair was the continuous vaudeville on the improvised stage in front of the grandstand. During the time the vaudeville was performing, all was quiet in the midway, only the late arrivals walking through. Powerful lights on top of the grandstand and on the towers casted in the ground near the track and on the stage itself, played

Rev. Chas. E. Ewing Writes of Japs in Gazette Saturday and Tells of the Shantung Occupation

What is Japan doing in Shantung? That is one of the questions we have been asking in America.

Who is best qualified to answer? One who has been there for many months would undoubtedly be the best equipped.

Saturday the Gazette will print another of the articles from the pen of the Rev. Charles E. Ewing, former Janesville pastor, who has kept in touch with America through the Gazette.

In a masterly manner he discusses the Japanese and the Chinese from first hand information.

It is the most intensely interesting contribution we have printed in years regarding great international questions. It appears only in the Gazette.

Shantung, the pawn of provinces, awarded to the Germans and then naturally to the Japs and what has happened from Japanese occupation.

A new angle is here shown in the correspondence of the Rev. Mr. Ewing.

Having been for months in the work of distribution of supplies to the starving Chinese in the province of Shantung and traveled much, he has a good point of observation.

Read this contribution in The Gazette Saturday.

ARRAY OF WOMEN'S WORK IS ELABORATE

Cakes and Cookies Rival Fancy Work Exhibits for Attraction.

There were never such tempting cakes displayed at any fair as are shown this year in the culinary department at the fair grounds, according to the views expressed by the admirers of the women who are constantly about the show cases there. And while they are comparing notes as to their favorite recipes, their masculine escorts are gazing at the array of women's work, and envious small boys are sniffing the appetizing odors, and wondering how the judges can taste of them so casually.

Owing to the special prizes donated by merchants for Devil Food cakes, chocolate layer and coconut layer, entries are heavy, making a most appetizing display. Mrs. A. V. Schaefer, the superintendent of the department, is assisted by Mrs. William Taylor.

One may think of 30 cakes piled high with coconut, like drifted snow, and a number of chocolate layer with rich and luscious fillings, and then envy the judges in their task of selecting the winners.

A dozen are competing for the special prize of a lady's waist offered for the tin of raised biscuits. Angel food cakes are also prime favorites, long as they are, and a number of this article, and at least 40 kinds of toothsome kinds of cookies. Apple and lemon pies must be the favorites in modern households as they are in the past.

Tree Apiary Falls; Bees Are Enraged

Lexington, Ky.—The pile from a tree which has been blocked for several days by the rain, fell Wednesday, and the bees which for years have used a roadside tree as an apiary, were enraged. The tree fell across the highway before a high wind and honey was scattered over a wide area.

The bees refused to relinquish possession and all travel was diverted by a route which causes several miles of additional journeying. Persons who approached the fallen tree, have been stung by fierce onslaughts of the bees. Floyd Clark, son of a telephone line broken by the storm, is in a serious condition from stings.

Downpour Floods Track, Makes Racing Impossible and Grounds Soggy Wet

All of Wednesday Program Goes Over Until Thursday—May Keep Fair Open on Saturday—Stock Judging Goes on As Usual but Shows Close Up for Day.

BUCKETING.

Janesville day at the fair has been postponed until Thursday on account of the rain. It was announced at noon Wednesday, that the fair would be held Friday instead of Thursday. The board had not decided whether it was the fair on Saturday, Mr. Nowlan stated.

All of Wednesday's race program will be staged on Thursday, when as many more added as possible.

A large number of Janesville business houses will conform with the change of plans. Among the places that will close Thursday are the Hotel Waukegan, Waukegan, city hall and the library.

Janesville merchants will not close Thursday, but will do so on Wednesday, as advertised. Some of them will let the fair help on Thursday to attend the fair.

With the fair grounds transformed into a swamp, there was a halt in the Janesville fair on Wednesday, for the condition of the grounds can only be described adequately by the expression "soggy wet."

From a noisy, colorful fair and carnival, floods changed the scene to one of depression for the day.

There were two inches of water on the track by noon. The first start of the morning, started an attempt to pump the track dry. It was wasted energy, for the slides leaked faster than the department could pump.

There was water everywhere, running in rivulets in low places, in pools around the tents. The downtown hawkers and barbers stood ankle deep in the pools and cursed their luck. Only one energetic barber (Continued on page 5)

AUTO SHOW BEST IN FAIR HISTORY

All Models of Over Score of Different Makes Are Exhibited Here.

Importance of the automobile in business for both the city and the farmer is emphasized in the automobile show at the Janesville fair, which is attracting a great deal of attention. A majority of the cars on display are moderately priced. Starting reductions have been made on the cars within the past year, and still greater reductions in some lines are predicted.

Most every kind of popular make of car is at the show.

One of the most complete exhibits of automobiles is that of the Overland company, showing in a special tent the complete line of the Overland and Willys-Knight cars. These cars were brought from Milwaukee especially for the Janesville fair.

There are sedans, roadsters, coupes, runabouts, touring cars in all the latest styles. Little four cylinder cars, six cylinders and a few eight are on display. Nowhere has the fair had such a complete auto show as this year, according to some of the oldest exhibitors.

Rest Tent Is Popular With Women at Fair

Tired women and children attending the first day of the 1921 Janesville fair found welcome and comfort in the comfort station established by the Janesville Gazette with the co-operation of several of the merchants.

The tent is located in the rear of the grandstand, out of the clamor and bustle of the grounds of amusement-hunters and sight-seers. Children and mothers rest in the sand pile while mothers rest in the luxurious chairs. The tent was a popular place Tuesday and all who came had a word of appreciation for it.

The tent is in charge of Mrs. W. T. Sherman and will remain throughout the fair.

Rail Bill to Put Million in Jobs?

Washington, D. C.—Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, testifying Tuesday morning before the senate committee on interstate commerce, expressed the opinion that the employment this winter of 1,000,000 men depends on the action congress will take on the railroad bill. Business will be stimulated and there will be a gradual improvement in existing conditions, he said, if favorable action is had.

Kennedy Case Before Grand Jury Thursday

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Los Angeles.—The Kennedy slaying case, in connection with which Mrs. Obenchain, fiancée of the dead man's brother, J. Belmont Kennedy, and her sister, Mrs. J. Belmont Kennedy, are being held in jail here, is expected to go before the county grand jury Thursday.

It was forecast following developments here Tuesday, one of which was the request that a jury found Kennedy had met death in a gunshot wound inflicted with intent to commit murder, by persons unknown.

Another development was a conference between District Attorney Twining and the young woman. The conference was requested by Mrs. Obenchain.

It was following this that the district attorney said he believed he possessed sufficient evidence to place the case before the grand jury. He would not comment on the nature of the evidence Mrs. Obenchain had supplied him.

Defence services for Kennedy were held Wednesday.

CITY'S "GAS" BILL $330 PER MONTH

It cost the city $330.38 for gasoline and oil for the city's trucks, cars and motorcycles during July, according to records of the clerk's office showing the distribution by departments as follows: engineering, $117.15; department, $85.75; flusher, $117.15; plumbing department, $55.75; roller, $55.75; and street department, $55.75. The bill was from W. T. Flannery & Sons who hold the contract with the city for all gasoline and oil. A total of $229 was paid out on a card of manhole covers and catch inlet basins ordered by the board of public works from the Neenah Foundry company.

YOKE, MADE IN '36 ONE OF FEATURES AT JANESVILLE FAIR

A yoke on display in the boys and girls agriculture exhibit arouses the memory of many who can tell of the days of old when the yoke was popular. Those were the days when a person who would have predicted that people would fly in the air and that there would be horseless wagons, would have been declared a fit subject for a lunatic asylum.

The yoke is 85 years old. It is the property of James Caldwell, Sr. of Janesville.

LOCAL RED CROSS HELPED SOLDIERS

What the Organization Has Been Doing in Jamesville This Summer.

The Chapter office, though open week-day afternoons only, is still kept busy with calls for assistance in various ways, the most numerous and important being in the way of service to the men filing claims for compensation, or who, having already filed these claims, are called upon to furnish additional testimony, showing the connection with their military service. Oftentimes, those who are fortunate enough to have work done not leave their work to attend to personal matters and to develop on the Red Cross worker to seek out those whom the claimant indicates as likely to give pertinent testimony and to assist them in the execution of affidavits required by the Veterans War Risk Insurance. These offices alone should justify the maintenance of the Red Cross until the claims of all veterans of the world war are adjudicated.

Advances of money have been made from time to time to soldiers or their families. These advances have been in the nature of loans, and it is hoped, will be paid when employment is secured, their government compensation has been granted or the advances in some other way. These advances in some other way. These advances in some other way. These advances in some other way.

When the first check was received, no time was lost in reimbursing for the loan by this grateful woman. Small advances of this kind have been made in several instances where men were traveling from town to town, unable to find employment. A suit of underwear, stockings and shirt, were furnished to a traveling soldier, without home or friends; shoes were repaired for one man and a new pair purchased for another.

Granting of Help. Any contributor to the Red Cross would have felt that it was a privilege to have seen the look of satisfaction on the face of this man when he returned to the office, wearing the new footgear. One man to whom aid was extended had traveled from Fort Stoughton, New York, having just been discharged from the hospital at that place. According to his story, he had been hospitalized in October, 1918, and had been sent from one hospital to another until the present time. He had depended in this long journey upon the kindness of the Red Cross, and in a measure, had paid his way by relieving the drivers of the cars, he being an expert chauffeur.

Worked With Y. M. C. A. The Y. M. C. A. has cooperated also with the Red Cross, furnishing coats for soldiers for whom other wants the Red Cross is caring. They met on one of the quarters at the call of the Red Cross, but many men who apply to them directly are saved from spending the night on the streets in the parks. It will readily be appreciated that names cannot be given in these instances because the man in trouble goes to the Red Cross worker as to his father confessor and all matters considered as strictly confidential.

It will soon be time for another call to membership and it is necessary that this membership should be increased in order to meet the growing demands upon the resources. Work will be hard to secure in the winter and more calls upon the Red Cross will be made for financial aid and for office service. The man who was earning big wages and who is now out of work will have time to make claim for the government for what is due him.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance has asked the attention of the Red Cross and of the Legion in its "clean-up campaign" to have all veterans of the World War who are entitled to government compensation file their claims and to secure final action in pending claims for compensation, insurance, vocational education, etc.

A considerable increase of funds will also be necessary in the future, and it is hoped that the work of the public health nursing, now being so efficiently executed by Miss Alice Glenn, Red Cross nurse for the Jamesville branch, will be continued by the Jamesville branch for the year ending June 30, 1922, will soon be submitted.

SMALL ARRESTED AND GIVEN BOND TO COURT

(Continued from page 1) Sheriff Meister and a force of deputy sheriffs besieged the state house, guarding every entrance, waiting for the warrants for the arrest of the man. At the latter hour the man was arrested. He had not moved out of his private office even for lunch.

At 3:30 Gov. Small requested the sheriff to come to his office, asked him if he had the warrants, and invited Sheriff Meister to arrest him. Sheriff Meister, refusing, said he had been advised by his attorneys not to take the governor into custody while he was in the actual performance of his official duties. Gov. Small then informed the sheriff he would be at the executive mansion at 5 o'clock.

Sheriff Meister, accompanied by his chief deputy, Ora Lemmon, drove up to the mansion at 5:05. Both were conducted to the library, where the governor and Attorney General were waiting. After the sheriff had refused to accept bond from the governor's office the party went over to the Sangamon court house.

A large crowd already had gathered and the sheriff was wedged in the sheriff's outer office that deputies had to force their way through the crowd and stand guard at the gate to prevent them from storming into the sheriff's private office.

Gov. Small presented the sheriff with a signed copy of the opinion holding that under the constitution the governor is immune from arrest while in office.

There was considerable argument over the bonds. Attorney General Lemmon permitted the governor to sign the bond which had been prepared on the grounds that it was illegal because it required no sureties. He insisted that Sheriff Meister accept the bond which had been prepared at the mansion.

This the sheriff refused to do until he had consulted with State's Attorney C. P. Mortimer. Some minutes elapsed before the latter arrived.

The governor's bond was signed by three Springfield politicians of the Small faction. They are Roy and Harry Ide, owners of Ide's Furniture and 32 Main street manufacturers of electrical devices, and former County Judge Chauncey H. Jenkins, now state director of public welfare.

Roy Ide scheduled $50,000 worth of real and personal property. Harry Ide, $40,000, and Jenkins, $20,000. All of the property is located in Springfield. The bond was stamped by Miss Selma Schroeder, the governor's private stenographer, as a notary public.

Attaches Protest to Bond. At the end of the bond the following paragraph was typed: "The above bond is given by Len Small, governor of the state of Illinois, under protest that he is not subject to arrest during his continuance in office as governor of said state."

"Well, it's all over, boys," Sheriff Meister announced to the newspaper men when the governor had departed. "I'm glad it's all over with. It was a mighty unpleasant job."

READY TO RE-SURFACE MILTON AVENUE ROAD FROM CITY TO FORKS

Contractors have equipment ready for the resurfacing of the Milton highway from the forks to the end of the road in Jamesville. Crushed gravel will be used by the county. It is expected the work will be started this week. Rain stopped pouring on the Edgerton concrete work Wednesday morning.

RAIN HELPS PASTURE LANDS THROUGHOUT CO.

Early Wednesday morning did a world of good in freshening pastures, to corn and tobacco.

Pasture lands were devoid of grass and burning up from the heat of the sun. A shower started the moisture again, but was not sufficient. The additional rain will hurry along the growth of all grasses.

Corn needed rain for the leaves were withering and turning yellow. Corn in Rock county will be ready for cutting or husking in another two weeks. Tobacco showed a decided improvement on Tuesday afternoon.

LEADERS DRAFTING NEW REVENUE BILL

Action Follows Intervention of President to Straighten Out Differences.

Washington.—President Harding having intervened to straighten out tax revision differences between leaders of the house of representatives and treasury officials, ways and means committee republicans set to work Wednesday to draft a revenue bill to yield $2,075,000,000 or approximately $200,000,000 less than had been suggested by Secretary Mellon.

The house was agreed upon Tuesday night at a White House conference attended by the Secretary of the Treasury, Speaker Clegg, Representative Norrell, of Wisconsin, republican leader, Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee and other prominent house republicans.

At the same time, decision was reached, it was stated officially, to cut $20,000,000 from established expenditures for this fiscal year, leaving the total at $4,054,000,000, as against the treasury's estimate of $4,254,000,000.

This would be accomplished, it was explained, by somewhat drastic cuts in estimates for the war, navy and agriculture departments, the shipping board and railroads and the refunding of $170,000,000 of disbursements on account of the public debt.

Chairman Fordney said his committee probably could have the new revenue bill ready for consideration by a conference of house republicans on Monday and leaders generally thought the measure probably could be passed by the house to August 20, the date for the month.

Under the program as now planned, the revenue finance committee would work on the tax bill during the week ending August 13, and it is ready for senate action when congress convenes. This would permit of final passage of the tax bill ahead of the permanent tariff measure, which the president desired to have carried out.

The great bulk of the taxes, which it is proposed to repeal, would consist of the income tax, the gift tax, the excess profits tax, estimated at $450,000,000 and the income surtax brackets above 32 per cent which are estimated to yield $50,000,000.

After this year the income tax would be reduced to 25 per cent, entailing a further revenue loss next year. Repeal of the other taxes proposed would also be made retroactive to last January. The White House agreement was for an increase of 2 1/2 per cent instead of five per cent, making the total tax per cent estimated to yield $125,000,000.

USED UP ALL THE DOLLAR BILLS TO BUY PRIMARY VOTES

Vandalia, Ky.—A primary election in the Kentucky mountains always has unique features, but the voting of yesterday added the price of at least one oddity. The three state and national banks in Perry county voluntarily closed their doors early, after $500,000 of dollar bills had been checked out. It is believed, for use in buying voters.

One of the banks paid out 22,000 $1 bills, another 18,000, and a third 20,000.

The Perry county supply of $1 bills was exhausted. Cincinnati correspondents, for the banks were called on, with the result that plenty more were furnished, but the vote was finally agreed to close until the election was over to prevent as much alleged vote purchasing as possible.

GRAIN "GAMBLING" BARRED BY SENATE

Senator Capper Says Suckers Are Rounded Up by Chicago Board of Trade.

Washington, D. C.—The Capper-Tinch bill for the regulation of grain exchanges was passed Tuesday afternoon by the senate.

It now goes to conference with every indication of an early agreement.

The purpose of the bill as explained by Senator Capper is to correct "one of the vilest practices" but not "to disturb any of the legitimate and useful functions" of the grain market.

These "vile" Senator Capper summarized as follows: "Gambling in grain, manipulation by large operators, fraudulent and unrestricted speculation in futures, dissemination of false crop information, gambling in indemnities, or 'quits' and 'rents'."

Arbitrary interference with the law of supply and demand. The bill was opposed by the exchange of the Chicago board of trade, which issued a statement, contending that the bill "in all good faith" will attempt to function under the provisions of the bill.

The bill does not touch cash grain transactions. It seeks to tax out of existence indemnities.

"Gambling in grain," Senator Capper said, "is a gambling house anywhere within the United States. But under the cloak of business respectability, we are permitting the biggest gambling hell in the world to be operated on the Chicago board of trade."

"The extent and completeness of its system for rounding up suckers explains how the Chicago board of trade must 'sell more grain every year than the entire globe produces.'"

The small gambler in futures has no more chance to win than the small gambler in a gambling house where they use marked cards and loaded dice."

KING ALBERT MAKES FORCED LANDING IN "SQUISHY" MARSH

Paris.—King Albert of Belgium had to make a forced landing in a marsh on Tuesday while on one of his customary little afternoon airplane trips across Europe. He was on his way to Deauville to spend an hour or two, but when he arrived there, he could not find a landing place. The royal pilot flew back and forward for half an hour looking for the aerodrome.

When he could not find any regular place to land he was forced, owing to shortage of gasoline, to seek any place that would do and he selected a marsh near Tankerville. The plane luckily behaved like a royal plane should do and, except that it sank rather deeply into the mud came down without accident.

King Albert noticed a man fishing for perch in a little lake. Of him he demanded how he could quickest get to Havre and the fisherman said: "Come along in my two-seater, I'm just going."

They at last reached Havre, and when the motorist found that his passenger wanted to go to the other end of town, he said: "Well, now, you can get a trolley car that'll take you all the way for two cents."

Then it was the king's turn to explain. He wasn't proud and stuck up, he said, but it would cause an impression if it became known that he was traveling around on a trolley car.

"Why?" asked the fisherman astonished.

"Well, you see, I am a king and I might be recognized."

PERSHING'S VISIT HERE CALLED OFF

Changes Plans at Eleventh Hour and Goes to Davis Jet—Many Disappointed

While a crowd of nearly 1,000 eager people gathered at the Chicago and Northwestern station here to greet him, General John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the United States army, changed his plans at the last minute Tuesday night and motored to Davis Junction where he took the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train for St. Paul at 7 p. m.

Adding an authentic information from Rockford, the American Legion executive committee had prepared to greet General Pershing upon his scheduled arrival at the city Tuesday night to take the 8:10 train for St. Paul and were at the station. There were children, women and men, many of whom had served overseas with the army.

The Gazette correspondent at Rockford Wednesday stated that it was believed that General Pershing, following the policy of the American Legion, had changed his plans to come to Janesville at the last minute to avoid the greeting which would be given him.

The general, traveling with his aide, took a Pullman car to St. Paul. From there it is believed he will go to Fort Snelling on a tour of inspection.

Welcomed at Rockford. General Pershing was greeted at Rockford by Major General Bell, Jr., and Capt. Fred Bass. He was taken to Camp Grant in Major Bell's limousine and as he approached the headquarters was greeted by a salute of 21 guns.

He reviewed the "bookies" of the Citizens Military Training camp at Rockford, which made such brilliant records during the war. We want to assemble these men again in their organizations that they may carry down to posterity their wonderful achievements and traditions. These men are getting old. So it is up to you young men to carry on and retain these traditions.

WITH WOMEN OF TODAY. It has been said that practically no vocation is closed to women today and according to statistics which have been gathered this seems true. There are still, however, several vocations into which women are not entering in great numbers. One of these is men's tailoring establishments, and yet this work has not been closed to women for as many as thirty thousand women have entered the field and made a success of their business.

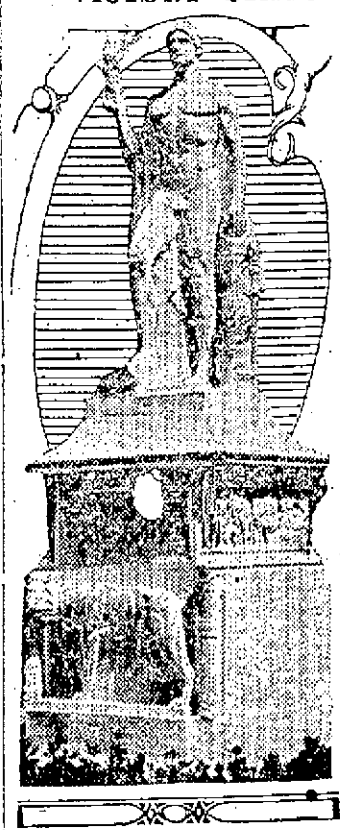

The Mrs. Bertha S. Harris of Seattle, Washington. When her husband died thirteen years ago, leaving with two young boys one eighth and one fourth of the estate, there was no other course open for her save to carry on her husband's tailoring business. Never having been in business before, she was dubious at first of her ability, but time proved her capable.

Today her business is recognized as one of the best in Seattle and numbers among its customers men in the walks of life. Mrs. Harris has patrons in San Francisco and Alaska who write asking her to select the material and make their suits. The growth of the concern from the struggling little business of thirteen years ago to the progressive one of today is due entirely to this woman's efforts. She has the distinction of being the only woman member of the Pacific Coast Association of Tailors' Association, an organization of some three hundred tailors of the west coast states.

Though busily engaged from morning to night, she has found time to raise her two boys to the point where the oldest one is rapidly assuming charge of the business and the youngest is completing his education in high school. Mrs. Harris is prominent in the club circles of Seattle.

Miss St. George was the pioneer maker of the overall with the union label. She was the first employed by the two partners, and cut out and stitched six garments which she carried on their backs to Newburgh and sold as their first wholesale order.

Rhodes, a married man about 25 years old, has been under police surveillance here for several weeks. Police have proof to show that he has been at several hotels here under different names. Some of his aliases were George Dempsey, A. Evans and Simpson.

His arrest, the said couple to Joseph McConnel, South Janesville, for $250. The sedan was sold to J. W. Hobbins, a farmer living south of the city, for the same price. It is alleged.

The low prices for which the machine were sold and the change in the motor numbers have convinced the police that the cars were stolen.

They believe Rhodes is a "prize catch" despite his denial of the charges that he changed the numbers.

Sedan Practically New. "The sedan has been driven only 455 miles according to the speedometer," said Chief Newman, Wednesday. "It is practically a new car, having been driven only about two months ago. Whoever changed the motor number on the sedan did a poor job. The number is now 448,022 which is the number of cars put out back in 1911 and 1912. The 1914 Ford motor numbers are around 5,000,000."

The confidential couple has been driven 3,447 miles, the speedometer shows. There is also evidence on this engine that the number was changed to 446,674. The scheme used to change the numbers, police explain, was to grind off the old numbers and then to put on new numbers with a die. The numbers now on the engines are larger in height and wider than the regular Ford numbers.

Blaine Will Review Troops at Camp Douglas. Madison—Governor John J. Blaine will go to Camp Douglas, Wednesday afternoon. Thursday he will review the state troops in annual encampment. The governor then will go to his home at Rosehol to remain till Monday.

WITH WOMEN OF TODAY. It has been said that practically no vocation is closed to women today and according to statistics which have been gathered this seems true. There are still, however, several vocations into which women are not entering in great numbers. One of these is men's tailoring establishments, and yet this work has not been closed to women for as many as thirty thousand women have entered the field and made a success of their business.

The Mrs. Bertha S. Harris of Seattle, Washington. When her husband died thirteen years ago, leaving with two young boys one eighth and one fourth of the estate, there was no other course open for her save to carry on her husband's tailoring business. Never having been in business before, she was dubious at first of her ability, but time proved her capable.

Today her business is recognized as one of the best in Seattle and numbers among its customers men in the walks of life. Mrs. Harris has patrons in San Francisco and Alaska who write asking her to select the material and make their suits. The growth of the concern from the struggling little business of thirteen years ago to the progressive one of today is due entirely to this woman's efforts. She has the distinction of being the only woman member of the Pacific Coast Association of Tailors' Association, an organization of some three hundred tailors of the west coast states.

Though busily engaged from morning to night, she has found time to raise her two boys to the point where the oldest one is rapidly assuming charge of the business and the youngest is completing his education in high school. Mrs. Harris is prominent in the club circles of Seattle.

Miss St. George was the pioneer maker of the overall with the union label. She was the first employed by the two partners, and cut out and stitched six garments which she carried on their backs to Newburgh and sold as their first wholesale order.

Eight women recently made the air trip from London to Paris—believed to be a record number carried in one machine.

There were many athletic, aquatic and special events. At 6 o'clock, the guests were given a steak supper. Justice Owen, president of the Madison club welcomed the guests and Elling E. Blom and Gov. John Moss, Milwaukee, also spoke. There was dancing in the evening.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN SCHEDULE FOR STREET SPRINKLING. Minor changes in the schedule of charges for street sprinkling are now in effect as a result of action taken by the city council Monday night.

The charge in the business district is $1 per month for each 25 feet of frontage or part thereof. In the matter of questionable territory, the following sections were declared in the residential district: High street and South Main street, from St. Lawrence avenue to Spaulding.

This is the territory now covered by the street flusher. The agreement is that the business district streets be sprinkled more often than those in the residential district.

It is expected that shortly after the train left Plymouth, John B. Hegg, traveling salesman for Lezardus & Well, Chicago diamond brokers, went to get his trunk and finding it had gone put up a howl that "thieves" had taken his property. Word was telegraphed at once to watch if any one applied for the strong box at Ford du Lac.

Before he could straighten out the mess, Hegg had to take the train back to Plymouth by motor car and identify the contents of his trunk before it was opened and then present positive data that he owned it.

13 MOONSHINE ARRESTS MADE IN SHEBOYGAN. Madison—Prohibition Commissioner Smith announced Wednesday that reports from four of his men in the field were that 13 moonshine arrests were made Tuesday in Sheboygan and two in Fond du Lac, and that one still was found in operation. "THEFT" OF JEWELS WAS ALL MISTAKE

Janesville Man Victim of Error—$75,000 Worth of Gems Involved.

Custodian of $75,000 worth of jewels for a little more than an hour and unaware of the fact until told so by the police was the unusual and unpleasant experience of Lorden D. Hock, 625 South Fremont street, this city.

The carelessness of a baggage man in checking the wrong trunk and the discovery by a jewelry salesman that his precious wares had disappeared precipitated the muddle Monday. Plymouth and Fond du Lac offered the setting for the "mysterious disappearance" of the gems.

Many Sue Company. Arriving home here Tuesday night, Mr. Hock was still incensed over the occurrence. He will file a claim for damages with the Chicago & Northwestern railway one of whose employees made the error.

"The Janesville man, who had been working in the cherry harvest in the northern part of the state, went to Plymouth to apply for work. He took with him a very large trunk. Not finding what he was looking for, he decided to go to Fond du Lac on his way back to this city.

There is where the "plot" started. At the Plymouth station, he went into the baggage room and pointing to his trunk on the train and asked the counter the man in charge to check it through to Fond du Lac. He was given the stub of the check.

Found Diamond Gone. Upon arriving at Fond du Lac, he was watching while the luggage was thrown on the train and not seeing his property asked the trainman if there was any more on board, receiving the reply that there was not. Then he showed his check and as it was discovered that the duplicate was on a steel buffer car trunk, Fond du Lac Chief of Police Nolan and Detective Fischer touched him on the shoulder and against his vehement protests took him into custody for further explanation.

It happened that shortly after the train left Plymouth, John B. Hegg, traveling salesman for Lezardus & Well, Chicago diamond brokers, went to get his trunk and finding it had gone put up a howl that "thieves" had taken his property. Word was telegraphed at once to watch if any one applied for the strong box at Ford du Lac.

Before he could straighten out the mess, Hegg had to take the train back to Plymouth by motor car and identify the contents of his trunk before it was opened and then present positive data that he owned it.

HERE ARE THREE NEW FALL COATS FOR FROSTY DAYS

With the July clearance sales over and the August for sales beginning, it looks as if it were not a bit too soon to begin to think about that winter coat. Here are three styles which will please the woman of fastidious tastes. At the left is a smart black coat made on straight lines with Hudson seal collar, cuffs and panel border down the front. The collar may be worn high or flat. The belt marks the waistline and from there down the coat flares a bit. The coat in the center shows a loose half-cape effect in graceful arrangement which lends an air of smartness to the navy velvet. The collar is of moleskin. The novel belt arrangement affords a note of interest in the practical topcoat at the fight. The collar of opossum fur is made on generous lines. All three of these models are from American makers.

GREENLAND SEES KING, FIRST TIME

Entertaining Royalty Tuesday When Denmark Ruler Visits Esquimos.

Godthaab, Greenland. (By wireless via Reykjavik and Copenhagen.)—For the first time in its history, Greenland has been entertaining royalty. King Christian and Queen Alexandra of Denmark arrived here Tuesday night on the steamer Island from Iceland and received a warm welcome from the Eskimo population. After rounding Cape Farewell at a considerable distance to avoid the ice, the weather changed from foggy to clear and the rocky west coast of Greenland, glittering with ice, was sighted against fantastically-colored clouds. For some time the Island and her escort, the warship Fylla, had to thread their way through a strait of drifting ice and several icebergs were seen near the vessels. Just outside the skerries off Godthaab, a single Eskimo kayak appeared and its sole occupant was taken on board the Island and presented with a rifle by the King. Inside the bay, enclosed with snow clad mountains a whole squadron of kayaks rowed out to greet the royal party who admired the skill with which the Eskimos handled their craft. The native women were the characteristic many-colored Greenland costume, with short breeches and long skin boots. After landing today a reception was held followed by religious services and the rest of the day was given up to festivities. The king was presented with a kayak and the Green with a blanket of fiver skins. The royal party afterward left for northern Greenland and are expected home by the end of the month.

"IZZY" HAS 'EM ALL GUESSING ON HIS NEXT MOVE

New York—Another Einstein is capturing space in newspaper columns.

This time it is not the learned propagator of the theory of relativity, but one of New York's most zealous federal prohibition enforcement agents. His name is "Izzy," and not a liquor raid is complete without him, for he always supplies a unique touch to proceedings. For "Izzy" has it all of various disguises of fiction for disguises. He is the most disguised man in New York. One day "Izzy" is a very old feeble man, seeking just a little drop to bolster up his declining years. Another time he bobs up in a saloon attired as a motorman and thursty after his long run. And again he is a speller, searching for the ephemeral 19th hole. Sometimes he just "sniffs out" concealed spirits. It's all in a day's work with "Izzy," but he does object to photographers, particularly when they catch him without his disguises.

CARUSO WILL HELD INVALID IN ITALY

This Claim Is Made by Heirs and Contest Has Been Started.

Rome.—The beginning of what probably will be a long drawn out legal battle between Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso, wife, and relatives of the great tenor who claim a share in the Caruso estate came Tuesday with the opening of the will found in Florence in the hands of Dr. Vecchiotti, administrator of Caruso's estates in Tuscany. This will, it was discovered when the authorities broke the seal in the presence of attorneys, representing Giovanni Caruso, the tenor's brother, and Caruso's eldest son, now in America, is merely a copy of the 1913 will, executed in triplicate, and one copy of which is deposited with a New York firm. It is said to be invalid under the Italian law, since no provision is made for Gloria, Caruso's little daughter. Brother and Sons Heirs. The will constituted Giovanni Caruso and two sons as principal heirs to the estate. Mrs. Caruso was not present and was not represented by counsel. However, she has filed already an appeal against the terms of this will in behalf of herself and Gloria. A greater part of Caruso's estate, other than the interest in future royalties on phonograph records, is in property in Italy. This property, it is apparent, will be distributed under the Italian law, which is very lenient on the side of the widow and children of the deceased. A tedious delay will ensue before

No Longer Does the Hurdy Gurdy Allure

New York.—Thirty years ago there were so many street pianos and hurdy-gurdies in New York that a thrifty Italian found it profitable to convert a saloon on a side street near Brooklyn Bridge, into an organ "parade." But the lure of the street piano has largely lost its potency for the girls and boys who once danced gaily to the strains of "East Side, West Side, All Around the Town." New York City is now a city of push carts. The rental is $1.50 a month.

Your Milk Plant and Ours

Have you ever thought what you would do if you operated a milk plant—the quality of milk you would sell and the kind of service you would give?

Let us see how well we can read your mind. First—the original source of milk you sold would be as clean as though the milk were for your own family. The milk would have to pass high standards of richness and purity. You would see that every farm was inspected for cleanliness and the care with which the milk was handled. Then at your plant you would install the most modern and up-to-date sanitary apparatus, you would employ no one who was not conscientious and skilled in handling milk and finally you would pasteurize. Then when you gave the best delivery service you would feel that your firm was truly giving service to the community.

That is the way you would want to manage your dairy and it is the way we are operating our entire service.

Absolute satisfaction in quality of product and service mean much more to a dairy than a few dollars saved. We want you to know that we are endeavoring to give you the very best milk, at the lowest possible price considering its high quality. Look for our name on the cap of your milk bottle. It is the safest and best milk for your baby.

Paige Finishes Survey of City

E. N. Paige, special industrial engineer, has completed his survey of Janesville for the Chamber of Commerce and has returned to his home in Chicago. "The work which Mr. Paige did for us is invaluable," declared L. C. O. Holman, manager of the Chamber. "He gives us statistical information that the Chamber of Commerce has heretofore had to guess at and we are now able to answer any question that comes up with regard to the city and its advantages."

"The data which has been collected enables us to talk more intelligently to prospective factory builders through railroad maps, site maps and all other necessary facts. The trade map which has been made will be of exceptional value to the Merchants association."

Mr. Paige took many beautiful pictures of Janesville and its surroundings, which we hope at some time to be able to publish in book form. They present scenic effects which many local people do not realize about right at their doors."

The data which has been gathered will be displayed in exhibit at a special room at the American City Bureau's summer school at Madison this month.

JOHNSON ASKS FOR FACTS ON TREATY

Wants to Know What Is Going On Over German Peace.

Copyright 1921, by Jansville Gazette. Washington—Senator Johnson of California has been making inquiries of Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, to determine what is going on between the United States government and the German government with respect to the establishment of peace.

Mr. Johnson is a member of the senate foreign relations committee, and as such feels that he is entitled to know what steps are being taken to make peace with Germany. He asked Mr. Lodge if it was true that a treaty was being negotiated with Germany. Mr. Lodge said he had not been advised by the executive branch of the government. Senator Johnson wanted to know if the German reichstag committee on foreign affairs had a copy of the proposed peace treaty, and if so, whether it was being considered by the reichstag.

"What would we have said if all this happened under the last administration?" exclaimed Senator Johnson, as he points out that not a scintilla of information has been given the senate foreign relations committee about the status of negotiations or conversations with the German government about peace. This fact has not been generally known. It has been supposed right along that the German government had been consulting the senate. That was the chief criticism leveled against the Wilson administration—a refusal to take cognizance of the senate's function as a part of the treaty-making power. Senator Lodge himself insisted that the senate had a right to have its say in advance of the actual signing of a peace treaty, and he circulated a round-robin which was signed by practically all the republican senators expressing the senate's views about a treaty which was then under negotiation.

See When Signed. The Massachusetts senator was asked whether the senate would have a similar opportunity to express its views on the treaty if it was being negotiated, but this time he is reported to have said that he supposed it was not a matter of concern for the senate until after the treaty was actually signed. Whether Mr. Lodge meant to convey the impression that he himself had reversed his previous views on the subject of the senate's function in peace negotiations, or whether he meant that the executive branch of the government felt that it was not a matter of concern for the senate, is the basis of a good deal of speculation at the capitol.

Sensor Johnson incidentally is not the only member of the senate foreign relations committee who says there is in the dark about the foreign policy of the administration. Others are saying the same thing. Senator Lodge, as republican leader, naturally bears the brunt of this discontent. He has asked for an engagement with President Harding just as soon as the latter returns from his 10-day trip. Whether it was to get more information about the German treaty or to discuss a senate recess was not indicated.

Parley Over Treaty. Certainly the department of state has not given any sign of letting anybody know what sort of treaty is being outlined to Germany, and it may be that Mr. Lodge, not having been given details of the parleys by Secretary Hughes, is asking the white house for information. The usual course is for the president or secretary of state to advise the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee about important steps in foreign policy, even though the details are frequently withheld. In the case of a treaty which is likely to be a source of controversy, efforts are sometimes made to convey sentiment in the senate in advance to determine a course of action. On this occasion there is no explanation of the department of state's policy except one. It

What America Wants. Summed up the senate foreign relations committee is officially in charge of the peace treaty. Mr. Hughes is discussing a new treaty with the German government. It only knows what the press dispatches from Berlin have reported, namely, that American Commissioner Drexel has laid before the German government a memorandum outlining the kind of a treaty the state department would like to see formulated. The German government has been discussing the matter with its committees in the reichstag to learn if approval would be given the pact. The answers thus far given in the informal exchanges are said to indicate eventual agreement, but just what is to be in the new treaty, or what understandings are being secretly made with the German government, nobody in the senate claims to know.

Church Proves Treasure Trove of Ironic Carving and Cartoon-Like Sculptures

(By Gazette Correspondent.)

New York—St. Thomas Episcopal church in 20th Avenue located Tuesday as a notable rival of the Metropolitan Art Museum in public interest, following cumulative disclosures that showed the million dollar Gothic structure to be a veritable treasure trove of unique sculpture and wood carving.

The first "discovery" made by a newspaper last week revealed a huge, ironic dollar mark carved in the ornamentation above the "Bride's entrance." Then followed the disclosure of a whole row of "ironic" carvings—little heads about the size of a fist—sculptured above the main entrance. These included a monocular dandy, a man with a disheveled head and a woman heralded as "the divorcee."

Tuesday the architects permitted to become public a chart listing some of the wood carvings that decorate the interior of the church. One of the carvings entitled "Prohibition" depicts Bacchus tumbled from a keg by a woman with a spoon. Fallen from his "outrretched hand" is a bunch of grapes while behind the woman's figure is a single lemon, emblematic of the "dry drink."

Another carving shows the Russian czar receiving "soviet medicine" from two monkeys, supposed to represent Lenin and Trotsky. A third shows capital and labor in a death struggle. Labor is represented by a man in conventional working clothes. He grapples with a lean, howler-like man in a high hat, who is backed up by the "Woolworth" building. The Woolworth tower is carved in a stant as if about to fall.

Other figures, representative of progress, represent all kinds of automobiles, locomotives and telephones. Prominent in this group also are two money bags bearing the initials "J. P. M."

The wood carvings also include a war group in which heads of Woodrow Wilson, King George of England, King Albert of Belgium, Clemenceau, Lloyd George, General Pershing, Marshal Foch, and many other war figures appear. A "Salvation Army" lassie is shown handing out doughnuts to doughboys and police, and other figures include "a gub" and "an aviator."

Approval of Rector. R. L. Mayers, partner of Bonrath Goodhue, architect of the church, explained in making public the chart that the wood carvings, most of which have been done recently, had the full approval of the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas. The work was done, he said, in accordance with the tradition of architecture that modern figures in history, problems of the day and symbols of the age should receive recognition in a sacred edifice. The dollar mark above the bride's door and the avenue types above the main entrance, however, were the architect's little jests, worked in on his own initiative when the church was built 10 years ago.

Getting by Jap Tariff With Long Timber Sticks. Tacoma, Wash.—The fact that the Japanese tariff taxes lumber per stick instead of per board foot has resulted in the cutting of some extremely large timbers here. Recently one mill shipped to Japan timbers 36 inches square and 40 feet long which weighed six tons.

They will be cut into lumber upon their arrival in a Japanese port. The largest piece of timber that can be cut here, it is said, is a stick 48 inches square and 110 feet in length. Such a timber would weigh about 13 tons and could not be loaded on a vessel.

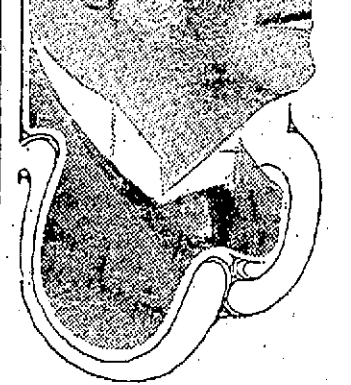

Water by Bucketful Is Spooning Cure at Resort. Atlantic City—The water cure for spooners is being administered by an inconsiderate police department. Censors, spotting the spooners, fill a bucket from the sea and pour it over the heads of the spooners. The first intimation of the censor's presence is when the spooners are startled by an imitation Niagara.

Frost's Abdella Watts Shows Heels to 2:25 Trot Field

Opening Races One-Sided; Speed and Close Battles Expected Wednesday

True to predictions Arlie Frost guided Abdella Watts, owned by Banker F. B. Luchinsinger of Monroe, to an easy victory in the 2:25 trot, the second and best race on the opening card of the "Lexington of the North" here Tuesday afternoon. The first event of the day was a simple win in a slow time for Fonia De Forest, Mahoney up, in straight heats. It was a 2-year-old trot for Wisconsin ponies.

Wednesday, one of the biggest days of the four-day meet, will bring out speed.

Hundreds of children swelled a fair first-day crowd at Tuesday's program. Special pony, foot and bicycle races were held for them.

The promoter stated he intended to arrange a bout in which Jack Dempsey would again defend his title against the most logical opponent. He is negotiating for another contest between Dempsey and Jess Willard, but has stated he first must be assured that Willard can get into condition.

WOODEN SPEARS GUARD GOVERNOR

Honolulu, T. H.—The crossed wooden spears of old martial Hawaii, held in the hands of stalwart Hawaiians clad in the impressive and colorful regalia of days that have gone, guarded the new governor of the territory, Wallace R. Farrington, recently as he walked along the halls of Iolani palace, now the capitol, to take his oath of office. As Gov. Charles J. McCarthy relinquished his post and his successor was sworn in, they were surrounded by prominent Caucasian Americans of the islands and by leaders of the Hawaiian-American who gathered to do them honor as earlier Hawaiians had honored their kings.
